

Are you natural leader who is passionate about security and justice? The Master of Science/Administration of Justice and Security is intended for students just like you!

This major aims at merging the worlds of administering justice and security programs in order to make students fully equipped to pursue careers in either field. Students will receive excellent training with a foundational understanding of administration with constant applications made to fields of justice and security. The program also involves students in a large number of cooperative group projects. These career fields require graduates who can excel in team environments and the coursework is designed to sharpen students' skills in this area. Overall, students will be more than equipped to work in management level positions within the justice and security industry. This major will prepare you for: A Master of Science/Administration of Justice and Security will look excellent on any resume but it will especially shine if you are looking into working in police, correctional facilities, or court operations. A MS/JS will give you the administrative expertise, which will enable you to gain numerous high-level entry positions that are unavailable to most applicants. Furthermore, you will be fully equipped to excel in your positions, which will poise you to climb the management ladder quicker than your colleagues. Typically, graduates find themselves in high-level management or administrative positions within public and private security companies. Also, many graduates couple this degree with a law degree and move into the justice system and often work their way up to becoming judges. Although this degree is not as extremely well known, it is a very prestigious and worthwhile field.

Schools That Offer Associate in Accounting

A nonprofit, regionally accredited higher education institution, Pacific Oaks offers bachelor's completion and master's programs in a variety of fields, including Human Development, Marriage and Family Therapy (MFT), Education, Early Childhood Education (ECE), Teacher Credentialing, and Organizational Leadership.