

Master in Human Resource Mangament

An MBA in Human Resources Management emphasis consists of a foundational business course work that provides special training in Human Resources.

You will be fully equipped with all the core skills of any MBA graduate while receiving special focus on how to manage people. Human Resources is becoming a vital part of corporations and you will gain the expertise to excel in this strategic role. A MBA/HRM degree does not limit graduates to any career field but is one of the broadest MBA programs. For this reason, the MBA/HRM program is very attractive to a diverse group of men and women. Students can apply their degrees to work in the public sector or private sector. This major is impacted and applicants should provide two to three years of work experience in order to fully take advantage of all the learning opportunities provided. This major will prepare you for: An MBA/HRM can meet and exceed the desires of many students and provide them with limitless opportunities. Human Resources is involved in almost every corporation around the world so there really is no limit to where this degree can take you. Your future career can range from working with an engineering firm to a marketing firm. A Human Resource Management emphasis allows you to choose what career path you wish to pursue and also gives you the diversity to switch career paths without being restricted to one single field. You can also expect to be well compensated as Human Resource Managers are a critical portion of organizations.

Schools That Offer Associate in Accounting

This program is designed for advanced practice nurses who hold a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree and licensed as a Registered Nurses with at least one year of clinical experience.

A nonprofit, regionally accredited higher education institution, Pacific Oaks offers bachelor's completion and master's programs in a variety of fields, including Human Development, Marriage and Family Therapy (MFT), Education, Early Childhood Education (ECE), Teacher Credentialing, and Organizational Leadership.

Southern New Hampshire University is a private, nonprofit, accredited institution with more than 3,000 on campus students, over 170,000 online students, making it one of the fastest growing universities in the nation. Since its founding in 1932, the University has transformed from a school of accounting and secretarial science into an institution offering over 200 programs, from certificates to doctoral level degrees including business, education, liberal arts, social sciences and STEM.